The Warehouse Casualty in Bridge Street.

Diverigation arrows coroner wilder restricted and the first ward station house on the body of John Quinlan, the man who was killed by being crushed beneath the initing waits of Messrs. Mulaney & Newton's storage warehouse, Nos. 3 and 6 Bridge street, on Saturday evening, as reported in yesterday's Henain. The testimony showed that deceased was buried up to his neck in the ruins, and death must have followed almost instantly. The only evidence of importance clicited, showing the bondition of the building at the time of the crash, was that of Mr. Newton, bookteeper for Messrs. Mulaney & Newton, which is as follows.

George Newton, being duly sworn, deposes and says.

I live at No. 80 State street, Brocklyn, and am book hooper for Messrs. Mulaney & Newton, Nos. 3 and 5 Bridge street, storage warehouse: I was in the office, in the southwest corner of the building, about five o'clock yesterday afternoon, when I heard the men who were in front of the building, taking in bacen, hailcoing, and I rushed out of the door and saw the centre of the floor falling in; the floors gave way first, before the wails; I rushed out of the store; all of the rear and most of the side wail fell as soon as I got out, the front wall merely buiged, the store was pretty full, but was much less full than it had been, and was quite evenly stored; I have no idea what caused the fall; I am not aware that there was any evidence of weakness discovered before the fall; the warning came with the fall; I do not know the age of the store; I have heard that it was awanty or thirty years; a part of the front wail was repared and winter. Mr. Dewitt, a lawyer, owns the baticity, there were six porters present, all on the dray floor of the story is the were two coperast work in the cenar at the time; all the porters and the coopers except from the building the moment an alarm was given; in a few moments more all or them would have been buried beneath the ruins.

After hearing all the testimony a verdict as follow

FINANCIAL AND COMMERCIAL.

BUNDAY, Jan. 31, 1864.

The people should not permit themselves to be drawn into an insecure position by the pleasing and prosperous aspect which the financial affairs of the country have assumed. The government, through the blundering administration of its af fairs and the want of conception of the duties of his office exhibited by the Secretary of the Treasury, is accumulating a debt which those who in their sovereign capacity raise men to power may regard before many years as alto-gether too heavy to be carried in its present shape. In order to arrive at a proper under standing of our present and prospective financial condition we must study carefully the following figures, showing the various loans and liabilities of the government, including those which have been authorized by Congress, but not yet absorbed:-

-The liabilities of the country, if the war contimes, will mere than cover the above total before the end of the fiscal year in 1865, and unless some change of policy is adopted we shall soon have upon our hands a debt, which has already been authorized by Congress, of more than three-quarters of the entire amount now owed by Great Britain, which it took that country a century and a half to create. In reference to this fact the London Economist truly says that since the commencement of financial history there has never been so rapid an accumulation of debt as the past Balance January 30, 1864,.............$14,971,316 two and a half years have presented in this country. There is not the shadow of a doubt about our ultimate success in the present struggle; but the declaration of peace, when it comes, will not lessen our obligations or bring with it immediate financial relief. The interest on our debt already amounts to a sum greater than was required to meet what was termed by the republican party the "enormous" annual expenses of the government previous to the breaking out of the rebellion, and before the advent of another year two ollars will probably be re quired for the current expenses and to pay twelve months' interest on the national debt. While politicians, contractors and stockjobbers are rejoicing over our present seemingly prosperous condition, the people should not lose sight of the facts herein stated, and every man who has a proper regard for the maintenance of the good faith of the country should ask himself how far the borrowing system can be carried without fear of collapse. Tha there is a limit no one will pretend to deny, and how near to the end we have already approached should be a subject demanding serious consideration from all true patriots The Comptroller of the Currency, in his address to the managers of the new national banks, says we must "bear constantly in mind, although the loyal States appear superficially to be in a pros-percus condition, that such is not the fact." This sober admonition should make an impression upon Secretary Chase, and cause him to ponder upon the course he is pursuing in regard to the finances. It should teach him that no real prosperity can resuit from an inflated currency, and that confidence cannot be re-established by increasing the volame of irredeemable paper. The Comptroller further says that "waste and extravagance prewail as they never before prevailed in the United States," and that " the nation, whatever may be the external indications, is not prospering." Will the people bear in mind that the Union, not-withstanding this outward show of prosperity," is actually becoming poorer every day. This cannot, of course, be very well avoided swing the continuance of the war, because large portions of the industrious classes are engaged in the work of destruction instead of contributing to our wealth by augmenting our resources. The old maxim that war tends to the impoverishment of a nation holds as good here as in any other part of the globe; but there is no necessity of adding to ouredifficulties by loading us with a debt which will require all our means to pay the interest upon, and bequeathing to the succeeding generation the necessity of partial repudiation. Half the joy that a declara-Mon of peace would produce, under other circumstances, would be destroyed by a recurrence to the heavy liabilities that are likely to be left upon as. Had Mr. Chase a particle of the boldness that marked the character of the Old Man of the Hermitage, he would have long since announced to the country a determination to make the present generation bear at least an equal proportion of the expenses of the war. Such a declaration, it is true, might not have aided immediately his politisal aspirations, but it would have been hailed by a majority of reasoning people as an act of sound policy. When General Jackson, with courage worthy of imitation, throttled the old United States Bank, the act was at first very unpopular,

I have known Hoofand's German Bitters favorably for a number of years. I have used them in my own family, and have been so pleased with their effects that I was induced to recommend them to many others, and know that they have operated in a striking's beneficial manner. I take great heavier in thus publicly precisiting this fact and calling the attention of those afflicted with the discussor for which they are recommended, to those Bitters knowing from experience that my recommendation will be suntained. I do this more cheerfully as Heofand's Bitters is intended to this more cheerfully as Heofand's Bitters is intended to the most of the afflicted, and is "not a rum drink." Yours truly, LEVI G. BECK.

Although not diposed to favor or recommend patent medicines in general, through distrust of their ingredients and effects, I yet know of no sufficient reasons why a man on any not testiff to the benefits he believes himself to have received from any simple preparation in the bope that he may thus contribute to the benefit of others.

I do this the more readily in recard to Hoofland's German Bitters, prepared by Dr. C. M. Jackson, of this city, because I was prejudiced against them for many years, under the impression that they were chiefly an alcoholic mixture. I am indebted to my friend, Robert Shoemaker, Esq., for the

(From the Rev. Jos. H. Kennard, pastor of the Tenth Baptist church.)

Dr. Jackson—Dear Sir—I have been frequently requested to connect my naive with commendations of different kinds of medicines, but regarding the practice as out of my appropriate sphere. I have in all tases declined; but with a clear proof in various instances, and particularly in my family, of the usefulness of Dr. Hoofnard's German Bitters. I depart for once from my usual course to express my full conviction that, for general decility of the system, and especially for Liver Complaint, it is safe and valuable preparation. In some cases it may fail; but usually, I doubt nut, it will be very beneficial to those who suffer-from the above cause.

Yours, very respectfully,

J. H. KENNARD,

Eighth, below Coates street, Philadelphia.

From Rev. Warren Randolph, Pastor of Baptist Church, Dr. C. M. Jackson-Dran Sim-Personal experience enables me to say that I regard the German Butters prepared by you as a most a receilent medicine. In cases of severs coid and general debility I have been greatly benefited by the use of the Bitters, and doubt not they will produce similar effects on others. Yours, truly,
WARREN RANDOLPH,
Germantown, Pa.

Prom Rev. J. H. Turner, Pastor of Hedding M. E. Church, Philadelphia.

Dr. Jackson-Dran Sim-Having used your German-Bitters in my family frequently, I am prepared to say that it has been of great service. I believe that in most cases of general debility of the system it is the safest and most valuable remedy of which I have any knowledge. Yours, respectfully, No. 726 N. Ninoteenth street.

From the Rev. J. M. Lyons, formerly Paster of the Columbus (N. J.) and Micatown (Pa. Baptast Churchea.

Br. C. M. JACESON:—DEAR SIR—I feel it a pleasure thus, or my own accord, to hear testimony to the excelence of the German Bitters. Some years since, being much afflicted with Dyscepsia, I used there with very benedicial results. I have often recommended them to persons enfectbed by that tormenting disease, and have heard from them the most flattering testimonials as to their great value. In cases of general deality, I believe it to be a tonic that cannot be murpassed.

From the Rev. Thoa. Winter, Pastor of Roxborough Baptist Church.

Dr. Jackson.—Dran Sin—I feel it due to your excellent preparation, Hoofland German Ritters, to add my feetimony to the deserved reputation it has obtained. I have foryears, at times, been troubled with great disorder in my head and nervous system. I was advised by a friend to try a bottle of your German Bisters. I did so, and have experenced great and unexpected calleft; my health has been very materially benefited. I confidently resommend the article where I meet with cases similar to my own and have been assured by many of their rood effects. Respectfully, years.

T. WINTER, Rozborough, Pa.

From Rev. J. S. Herman, of the German Reformed church.

Dr. C. M. Jacason. "Harrierin Sin-1 have been troubled with dyspepsia nearly twenty years, and have never used any medicine that did me as much good as Hoofand's Bidters. I am very much improved in health, after having taken five bottles. Yours, with respect.

J. S. HERMAN.
